P O R E W O R D

Another branch of the large Garber Family in America has been found and recorded in the pages of the Garber Historical and Genealogical Record. This is the family and descendants of Samuel Garber and Mary (Smith) Garber who settled in Guernsey County, Ohio in 1836. The Historian believes that all relatives who may have the privilege of reading this historical and biographical record of one of the large branches of the Garbers will find it highly interesting and enlightening.

The Garbers have always been a devout religious people. Particularly is this true of our early progenitors. In fact, our ancestors came to America to seek a haven where they might worship as they saw fit. And, primarily they came to escape the religious persecution then rampant in the land of their birth. They were mostly of the German Baptist Brethren faith and were commonly known as Dunkards. Some were Amish and still other families and groups embraced the Mennonite faith. The Garbers have peopled the entire United States with thousands of sturdy, dependable citizens, many of whom have attained considerable reknown as Educators, Farmers, Lawyers, Musicians, Artists, Authors, Doctors, Soldiers, Jurists and in practically every other honorable occupation or profession. The descendants of Samuel and Mary Garber are no exception. They have contributed an unusually high percentage of outstanding citizens.

In the compilation of a work of this kind many unforeseen difficulties are encountered. Perhaps one of the greatest obstacles to a complete and successful history of our people is the apparent reluctance of many relatives to furnish the necessary information. Many of them seem to feel that the Historian's requests for family data is an effort to pry into their personal affairs, or a desire to drag the proverbial family skeletons out for an airing. However, it is by no means the purpose of this work to air family troubles or expose scandals involving our relatives or ancestors. Perhaps there are such items that would make spicy reading; but to incorporate them in the pages of a family history would place such History on the plane of the common scandal sheet. Every family in America or for that matter in the entire world has its petty troubles, scandals and black spots which are much better to forget than to perpetuate. Therefore, when any information of this nature comes into the hands of the Historian, he promptly relegates it to file of things to be forgotten.

In the matter of assembling data for the writing of this history of the Samuel and Mary Garber descendants, the Historian wishes to express his deep gratitude and appreciation for the invaluable help and co-operation rendered by Minnie E. Rogers, Minnie E. Robinson, Mrs. James W. Webster, Mrs. Helen Ray, Mr. Adaniram Garber, Mr. J. D. Hartup and numerous other relatives. Without this unselfish assistance, the writing of this book of the Garber Record would have been an almost endless task.

In view of the fact that it is impossible to hold up the publication of this work until every possible source of information is exhausted, the Historian is making provision for the publication of supplemental pages which may be added at convenience. These additional pages will be supplied to all interested relatives without charge.

The Historian.

HISTORICAL, BIOGRAPHICAL AND

SAMUEL GARBER AND MARY (SMITH) GARBER

Although these pages are intended to deal primarily with Samuel and Mary Garber and their descendants, it is important for the sake of completeness and authenticity to incorporate in this work a genealogical record of their preceding generations. The original progenitor of this large family of Garbers was Jacob Garber (Gerber) who was born in or near Basil, Switzerland, in 1732. At the age of 21 years, he migrated to America with his two brothers, Simon and Michael, in order to escape religious persecution then rampant in the old Country. They landed at Philadelphia, Sept. 15 th. 1753, and from there traveled to Baltimore. Thereafter, each went his separate way to seek a suitable place in which to establish his home in pioneer America. Jacob traveled to western Maryland and settled near Johnsville, where he married and raised a large family. Unfortunately, the name of his wife is yet unknown. Of the many children born to them, we now have definite record of the following: Jacob, Samuel, Jonathan, Catherine and Barbara, also a son Henry.

Jonathan, Jacob, Catherine and Barbara removed with their respective families to western Pennsylvania following the Revolutionary War and settled in Washington County of that State. Jonathan married Elizabeth Hufford, and they were the parents of 13 children among whom was Samuel, the progenitor of the large family of Garbers to be disclosed in the following pages. The other children of Jonathan and Elizabeth Garber were William, Jonathan, Christian, Cornelius, Elizabeth, Mary, Susannah, Hannah, Reuben, Anna, Jacob and Christopher. Jonathan Garber, the father of this large family, lived on a farm in Washington County, Penna. recently known as the Jacob Horne farm, and at the time of his death was buried atop the highest hill on the farm. See VOL. I, Pages 255-256 for a complete account of Jonathan's burial.

Samuel Garber, son of Jonathan and Elizabeth, was born in Washington County, Penna. in the year 1804. When he had attained manhood, he became enamoured of Miss Lydia Garrett with whom he concluded his first marital experience. To them was born one son, Samuel, who became the progenitor of a large family of Garbers now living in western Pennsylvania. See VOL. I, Pages 253-274 of the Garber Record. Unfortunately Samuel and Lydia did not make their marriage relations a permanent institution. They separated; Samuel departed for other parts and Lydia remained at home to raise and care for her son.

Samuel later met and married Miss Mary Smith of Amwell Township, Washington County, Penna., and a few years thereafter removed to the State of Ohio where they settled on a farm in Guernsey County. (1836). To Samuel and Mary (Smith) Garber were born 12 children whose names were Mary, Elizabeth, Peter, Abel, Sarah, Jonathan, Hannah, Eunice, Reuben, James, Silas Dean and Agnes Jane. This large family became pretty generally scattered over the mid-western States and as far west as California and Oregon, which fact makes it a most difficult task for the Historian to collect the information necessary for this work.

Regarding Samuel Garber's eleven brothers and sisters there is scant information available at this time. However, the Historian will record here such information as he may have on this large family, because all descendants and relatives will doubtless be interested in learning about them.

2. Christopher Garber married a Miss Rose and settled in Charlotte, Mich. They raised a large family. He was 76 years old when he married his second wife who was a distant relative of his first wife. By his second wife, Christopher had two children whose names are Andrew and Mary. Andrew became a railroad man and lived in Chillicothe, Ohio. Mary married and continued to live in the city of her birth.

3. Reuben Garber married Matilda Mathews, and they lived in Athens County, Ohio. Reuben died Feb. 14th. 1884 and Matilda died April 4th. 1901. Both are buried in the cemetery of Salem Church, Guernsey County, Ohio. Reuben and Matilda had a family of 10 children whose names were Sarah, Emaline, Jonathan, Samuel, Elizabeth, Morgan, Mary Anne, Isabelle, Amanda Jane and John. Of these children, Sarah married Jesse Ladd who lived only a few years. Their children were Reuben, who engaged in railroad work and lived in Pittsburg, Pa. Samuel, son of Reuben and Matilda Garber, was born Aug. 3rd, 1847. He married Mary Maxwell, March 25th, 1869. They raised a family of eleven children whose names were Ida Jane, William, Geneva, Charles Morgan, May Alice, Mabel, Samuel Harley, Clyde, Fletcher, Ralph and Ruth. Samuel's wife, Mary Maxwell Garber, died March 22nd, 1910 at the age of 61 years. Of their children, Ida Jane married Edward Parsons, Dec. 26 th, 1887. They had three children whose names were Geneva, Mabel and Ethel. Ethel died Feb. 8th, 1894. Ida Jane Parsons died Jan. 13th, 1903 and is buried in the Salem Church cemetery, Athens County, O.

They had twin children, one of whom died in infancy, the other died at the age of four years. All of this family are buried in the Salem Church Cemetery in Athens County, Ohio.

Morgan Garber, son of Reuben and Matilda, married Lucy Jewell at Marietta, Ohio. Lucy died four years after their marriage and bore no children. Morgan, now married again, lives at Utica, O.

John Garber, son of Reuben and Matilda, died in infancy and is buried in the Pedigo Cemetery, Athens County, Ohio.

This large family of Reuben and Matilda (Mathews) Garber has contributed much to the honor and glory of our great clan, and it is hoped that the Historian may acquire a complete knowledge of their genealogy and interesting biographies.

Going back to the family of Jonathan and Elizabeth (Hufford) Garber, let us learn something about their other 11 children. The information at hand is indeed meagre, but it is hoped that time will bring to light a thorough knowledge of their genealogy.

4. William was born in 1796 and died in 1868. In the year 1920, he married Elizabeth Weaver. They raised a large family but the Historian has a record of only one of them, a son Jonathan who lived in Pasadena, Calif.

5. Mary married David Eggy.

6. Susannah married Abraham Moore. She was born in Washington County, Penna., and died on Dec. 3rd. 1850 at the age of 50 years, 6 months and 6 days. Her husband was born May 11th. 1800 and died Feb. 26th. 1880. They raised a large family, and many of their descendants may be found living in western Pennsylvania.

He then married Anne McCarty who was born Feb. 11th. 1819 and died Dec. 4th. 1887. To Cornelius and Anne were born a number of children who died in early childhood. However, sons George, Jonathan and Emanuel attained adulthood, married and have many descendants. Cornelius was a highly skilled weaver. His coverlids have only recently received recognition by the Metropolitan Museum. Many of his artistic products may still be found in the homes of his descendants and relatives.

9. Anna Garber married David Barnett and lived in Blacksville, Penna.

10. Jonathan became a preacher and teacher.

11. Elizabeth Garber.

12. Christian Garber.

GARBER, MARY (SMITH),

Daughter of Peter Smith and Pricilla (Cooper) Smith, was born in Washington County, Penna., on May 14 th. 1808. She was a descendant of early American pioneer stock. Her grandfather Dennis Smith, was born in Germany in 1728 and migrated to America shortly after he had attained maturity. He married Elizabeth Zook and settled in eastern Pennsylvania. To Dennis and Elizabeth were born 13 children among whom may be found the name of Peter Smith, the father of Mary (Smith) Garber.

Dennis Smith, the progenitor of this Smith family, served in the Colonial Army for a period of seven years during the American Revolution. He spent the long, painful winter with Washington's gallant army at Valley Forge. In 1785, he removed to western Pennsylvania and settled in West Bethlehem Twp., Washington County, Penna. Two years later he removed to Green County, Penna. and settled on a 200 acre farm in Washington Township. Dennis Smith died in 1824 at the ripe age of 96 years and is buried in the Lippincott Cemetery, Green County, Penna.

Peter Smith, son of Dennis Smith and Elizabeth (Zook) Smith, was born in eastern Pennsylvania in 1775. In 1804, he married Pricilla Cooper and settled on a farm in Amwell Township, Washington County, Penna., one mile north of Ten Mile village. For many years he operated a sawmill on the north branch of Ten Mile creek. Like his father, Peter gave his services to his Country. This was in the war of 1812-1814. He died in 1848 and is buried in the North Ten Mile cemetery. To Peter and Pricilla Smith were born 11 children among whom may be found the name of Mary, the Mother of this large family of Garber descendants.

Mary Smith married Samuel Garber in 1827. To them were born 12 children named, Elizabeth, Peter, Abel, Sarah, Mary, Jonathan, Eunice, Hannah, Reuben, James, Silas Dean and Agnes Jane. In 1836, Samuel and Mary removed to the State of Ohio where they settled on a farm near the Salem Baptist Church in Guernsey County. Born of Pennsylvania Dutch ancestors, Mary, or Polly as she was affectionately called by her neighbors and relatives, was a devout christian mother, which fact is ably attested by the stirring character of her numerous descendants. Mary died on March 18th, 1888, and is buried in the Salem Baptist Church cemetery, Guernsey County, Ohio.

GARBER, SAMUEL,

Son of Jonathan Garber and Elizabeth (Hufford) Garber, was born in Washington County, Penna., July 3rd, 1804. Having been born on his father's farm, he naturally attended the rural school in the vicinity of his home. When he attained adulthood, Samuel became enamoured of Lydia Garrett with whom he concluded his first marital experience. To Samuel and Lydia was born a son named Samuel. This son, Samuel, became the progenitor of a large family now living in Washington County, Penna. However, the man and wife relation of Samuel and Lydia was, for some reason, destined to fail.

On Oct. 4th, 1827, Samuel again ventured into the matrimonial state by marriage to Miss Mary Smith. To them were born 12 children named, Elizabeth, Peter, Abel, Sarah, Mary, Jonathan, Eunice, Hannah, Reuben, James, Silas Dean and Agnes Jane. In 1836, with his family which then numbered five children, Samuel removed to the State of Ohio where he settled on a farm in Guernsey County. He was an industrious, thrifty farmer and was held in high esteem by the people of his community. But, Samuel was destined to come to an accidental, untimely death. During the hay harvesting season of 1861, a horse kicked a pitchfork which Samuel held in his hand and drove the handle into his abdomen thereby causing serious internal injuries from which he died two hours later. Samuel Garber died Aug. 8th. 1861 and is buried in the Salem Baptist Church cemetery near his pioneer home.

DESCENDANTS OF

ROBINSON, AGNES JANE (GARBER),

Daughter of Samuel Garber and Mary (Smith) Garber, was born at Gibson Station, Ohio, Aug. 13th. 1853. Like her parents, she was destined to become a pioneer wife and mother. In fact, both her paternal and maternal ancestors were early American pioneers and patriots. On March 1st. 1876, Agnes Jane Garber was united in marriage to Mr. Joshua Moffett Robinson, the wedding having taken place in the city of Cambridge, Ohio. To them were born seven children. With the exception of one all their children were born in Ohio. Minnie Esther, the younger, was born in Arkansas. In 1893, Agnes Jane, her husband and six children migrated to Arkansas where they settled near the city of Fayetteville. Later, 1901, the family which now numbered seven children removed to Sebastopol, Sonoma County, California. The names of their children were Mary Eleanor, James William, Agnes Jane Pearl, Fannie Lillian, Joshua Jerome, Rhea Sylvia and Minnie Esther.

Mrs. Agnes Jane (Garber) Robinson became one of the best known and greatly beloved pioneer mothers of Sonoma County, Calif.. She was a devout christian mother of the Presbyterian faith, and was ever ready and willing where good could be accomplished for her family, friends and neighbors. She died at her home in Sebastopol on Sept. 17th. 1938 and lies in eternal sleep in the Odd Fellows cemetery of Sebastopol.

ROBINSON, JOSHUA MOFFETT,

A member of the Garber family by marriage, is reputed to be a descendant of the famous John Robinson whom history credits with the inaguration of the Mayflower's voyage to America. Joshua was a son of Rachell Hall Robinson and Mary (Buchanan) Robinson. He was born in Belmont County, Ohio, Dec. 26th. 1852. On March 1st. 1876, he married Miss Agnes Jane Garber, and to them were born seven children named Mary Eleanor, James William, Agnes Jane Pearl, Fannie Lillian, Joshua Jerome, Rhea Sylvia and Minnie Esther. By occupation Mr. Robinson was a nurseryman. In 1893, he removed with his family to the State of Arkansas and settled near the city of Fayetteville. Later, in 1901, he again changed his location by removing to Sonoma County, Calif. where he settled near the city of Sebastopol. There he continued his nursery business until the time of his death which occurred on Aug. 6th. 1930. He is buried in the Sebastopol cemetery.

McGAHA, MARY ELEANOR (ROBINSON),

Daughter of Joshua Moffett Robinson and Agnes Jane (Garber) Robinson, was born near Gibson Station, Guernsey County, Ohio on Nov. 7th. 1877. She attended the Arkansas University where she trained for the Educational profession. Her occupations prior to marriage were chiefly in the teaching line. By religious faith she is a Presbyterian. On Feb. 6th. 1898, Miss Mary Eleanor Robinson married Andrew Jackson McGaha and to them were born two children, Frances Lillian and Charles Howard. At the time of this writing Mrs. McGaha is living at Selma, Calif., RFD #1, Box 453.

McGAHA, ANDREW JACKSON,

Son of William and Sarah McGaha, was born at _____ Jan. 3rd. 1865. He attended school at Sidney, Iowa and later took up merchandising as his profession. Mr. McGaha is a member of the Loyal Order of Moose and the Grange. On Feb 6th. 1898, he married Miss Mary Eleanor Robinson. To them were born two children named Frances Lillian and Charles Howard. Mr. and Mrs. McGaha at this time reside near Selma, Calif. RFD #1, Box 453.

BOURKE, FRANCES LILLIAN (McGAHA),

Daughter of Andrew Jackson McGaha and Mary Eleanor

(Robinson) McGaha, was born in Fayetteville, Arkansas Dec. 22nd. 1893. She attended the Lincoln Primary School, Washington Grammar School and the Petaluma High School of Petaluma, Calif. Following her educational pursuits, Frances Lillian selected secretarial work as her profession. On June 18th. 1923, she became the bride of Mr. Leo Alphonse Bourke. To this marriage were born two children named Mary Agnes and Leo Andrew Ivan. By religious faith and affiliation Mrs. Bourke is a member of the Christian Science Church.

BOURKE, LEO ALPHONSE,

Son of Alphonse E. Bourke and Heloise Duchesneau Bourke, was born in Fresno County, California May 7th. 1893. Leo attended the public schools of Petaluma, Calif. and supplemented his education through private tutors. At a ceremony held in San Francisco, June 18th. 1923, Mr. Bourke was united in marriage to Miss Frances Lillian McGaha. They are the parents of two children named Mary Agnes and Leo Andrew Ivan.

Mr. Leo A. Bourke being the President and owner of a highly successful industry, it is quite fitting that his relatives and connections know something of his remarkable biography. For this purpose the Historian will quote the History of Sonoma County, Calif. Golden Gate Edition of 1937.

"In the spring of 1898, Leo A. Bourke came with his parents and brothers to Petaluma, Calif., where the father, Alphonse E. Bourke established a small manufacturing plant and hatchery, for the purpose of manufacturing Must Hatch Incubators, of which he was the inventor, and to hatch day old chicks.

In 1912, Mr. A. E. Bourke, the founder of the Must Hatch Incubator Company sold his entire business to his son, Leo A. Bourke.

Thus Leo A. Bourke became sole owner and master builder of the largest institution of its kind in the world. By 1923, his hatchery had reached a peak capacity of four hundred thousand eggs, and in that year the entire plant burned to the ground.

Mr. Bourke then built a larger factory to take care of the business which was constantly increasing. By 1926, the new institution was opened to the visiting public. That Petaluma enjoys a notable commercial reputation is due in a considerable extent to Leo A. Bourke, President of Sales and Bourke Inc., the largest hatchery in the world.

Aside from his strenuous business affairs, Mr. Bourke finds a proper amount of time for recreation which takes the form of yachting, fishing and taking moving pictures. For two years prior to the attack on Pearl Harbor, Mr. Bourke and his family lived at their beautiful Hawaiian home called Manaloa. Shortly after the Pearl Harbor incident, the Bourkes returned to their home in Petaluma where they now reside.

BOURKE, MARY AGNES,

Daughter of Leo A. Bourke and Frances Lillian (McGaha)

Bourke, was born in San Francisco, Calif., Oct. 30th. 1931.

BOURKE, LEO ANDREW IVAN,

Son of Leo A. Bourke and Frances Lillian (McGaha) Bourke, was born in Petaluma, California, March 1st. 1933.

McGAHA, CHARLES HOWARD,

Son of Andrew Jackson McGaha and Mary Eleanor (Robinson)

McGaha, was born in Wa Keeny, Kansas, Sept. 2nd. 1901. He attended the public schools of Petaluma, Calif., after which he followed the professions of salesman and hatcheryman. He is a member of the Methodist church. On March 7th. 1937, Mr. McGaha married Miss Elizabeth Crawford, which marriage was dissolved by divorce in 1942.

At the time of this writing, Charles is a Coxwain, U.S. Naval Reserve U.S. Naval Advanced Base, Noumea, New Caledonia and is doubtless taking a mighty active part in the activities of the United States Fleet in the South Pacific. He is a member of the Solna, Calif., pistol and rifle club and holds a sharpshooters medal. His chief hobbies are hunting, fishing, mincrology and photography.

ROBINSON, JAMES WILLIAM,

Son of Joshua Hoffett Robinson and Agnes Jane (Garber)

Robinson, was born in Wakarusa, Kansas, Nov. 15th. 1887. When about 15 years of age, James accompanied his parents to California where his father engaged in the nursery business. Through his close association with his father's work, James acquired a fundamental knowledge and a genuine fondness for plant life. Consequently, he chose the nursery business for his own life's vocation. In later years he acquired a scientific knowledge of plant culture which became a great asset in the development of his business to its present high standard. Along with the management of his business, James conducted many experiments in the development of hybrids. Because of his many improvements in flowers, particularly the camellia, he has gained quite and enviable reputation as a hybridist in the Pacific Coast area. His latest improvement involves a camellia which he has named Miss Jamice Robinson in honor of his little daughter.

James W. Robinson first married Miss Hazel Lindsay of Colorado, Aug. 16th. 1916, who died Feb. 28th. 1932 without issue. She was a daughter of Samuel and Mary Lindsay, and was born in Litchfield, Mich., Nov. 20th. 1881. Prior to her marriage to Mr. Robinson she was a teacher. She is buried in the Sebastopol, Calif. cemetery.

On Oct. 19th. 1932, James married Miss Princie S. Cline of North Carolina. They have one daughter named Jamice Princie Esther.

In 1930 he was one of two University of California graduates to be selected for the U.S. Marine Corps aviation instruction. By diligence and outstanding ability, he won a commission as Second Lieutenant in the Marine Corps Reserves. During the eight year period from 1932 to 1940, Mr. Freuler was on inactive duty as a Marine Officer but continued regularly scheduled drills and took specified flying hours every year. During these years as a Reserve Officer, he was promoted to the rank of First Lieutenant and then to a Captaincy.

In June 1941, he was sent to the Hawaiian Department as Gunnery Officer to the main air base at Ewa, Oahu. In November of the same year, he was transferred to Wake Island. Then came the historic siege of Wake Island in which Captain Freuler ably upheld the traditions of the famous Marine Corps. He was the last man to fly a plane over the Island, during which flight he was wounded and was forced to make a crash landing after his motor was damaged by enemy fire. In December 1941, he was fittingly honored by the President in a citation to his squadron for their heroic deeds. In May 1942, he was reported to be a prisoner of war of the Japs in occupied China, and some months later his valor was further recognized by a promotion to the rank of Major. Let us hope, that when peace comes to the troubled world again, Major Freuler and our other numerous Soldier relatives may safely return to their families. The Historian Salutes you, Major Freuler.

schools and the Anady high school. However, in 1910, she abandoned her educational pursuits and entered the services of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company. In the employ of this company she developed a deep interest in her work, so much so, that she subsequently decided to make it her life's profession. Her record of 33 years service without an interruption is an enviable one indeed. From Operator, she advanced to the position of Chief Operator, which position she now holds. She is an honored member of the Telephone Pioneers of America.

All too meagre are the expressions of gratitude that can be made by the Historian for the intense and perhaps inherent interest and unselfish support and contribution which cousin Minnie E. Robinson has rendered toward the compilation of this record. Indeed, it was her great interest and hope that induced the Historian to undertake such a large task at this time. Therefore, let us hope that the relatives and connections whose genealogical and biographical records are contained in these pages may fully appreciate and enjoy this interesting and valuable record of their people now preserved for all time through the influence and family pride of their devoted relative.

At the time of this writing, Minnie Esther Robinson resides in the home place which she inherited from her parents. The address is 637 Bodega Ave., Sebastopol, California.

HISTORY AND GENEALOGY OF

THOMAS HARTUP AND SARAH (GARBER) HARTUP

HARTUP, THOMAS.

Son of James Hartup and Eleanor (Glasner) Hartup, was born in Harrison County, Ohio, Feb. 21st. 1831. At the age of five years, his parents moved to the farm now known as the Hartup Homestead and there he grew to manhood. His early education was acquired in the little country school about a half mile from his home, and like so many of our early pioneers, his education was finished in the school of experience.

At the age of 23 years, Thomas married Sarah Ann Garber, and they made their home in one of the log houses on the Hartup farm. To this union were born five children named, Samuel James, Mary, Minnie, John and William Grant. By occupation, Mr. Hartup was a farmer, but in addition to this he acquired through study and practice a profound skill as a veterinarian. He also made brooms, cobbled shoes and was a skilled harness maker. He attended the Salem Baptist Church and was a devout religious man. Thomas died on Sept. 15th. 1901, and is buried in the cemetery of Salem Church.

HARTUP, SARAH ANN (GARBER).

Daughter of Samuel Garber and Mary (Smith) Garber, was born in Washington County, Pennsylvania, Nov. 27th. 1835. Three years after her birth, her parents migrated to Ohio and settled on a farm in Guernsey County, About a mile from the Salem Baptist Church. As was characteristic of most women in her day, Sarah grew up to be a hard-working girl. She became an expert spinner of wool and made all the home-spun cloth necessary to clothe her family. At the age of 21 years, Sarah Ann was married to Thomas Hartup, an enterprising young man from a neighboring farm. To them were born five children named, Samuel James, Mary, Minnie, John and William Grant.

Sarah (Garber) Hartup was a frugal woman. She lived at a time when the farm produced every essential of life. Her bountiful garden and the fruit of the farm was the unfailing source of the generous stock of canned goods to be found in her cellar. Fruits, vegetables, jams, preserves, dried herbs for home medication, soap from waste grease and the old lye barrel, are only a few of the items to be found in Sarah's pioneer home. She was a devout christian woman and attended the Salem Baptist Church regularly. She died on Nov. 13th. 1914 at the ripe age of 81 years, and is buried beside her husband in the Salem Church cemetery.

ROGERS, MINNIE (HARTUP).

Daughter of Thomas Hartup and Sarah Ann (Garber) Hartup, was born in the Hartup Homestead, Sept. 10th. 1832. She attended the Liberty rural school near her girlhood home from the age of seven to the age of twenty. Like her mother, Minnie grew up as a hard working farm girl. On Jan. 26th. 1889, she married Lilburn Rogers, who made a home for his bride on a farm near the present town of Robins near Byesville, Ohio. To them were born four children named Everett, Mary, Thomas and Clayton. Like her ancestors on both the Hartup and Garber sides, Minnie is a devout christian woman. She is a member of the Methodist church; for 25 years church treasurer and for 55 years a Sunday school teacher.

Since the death of her husband in 1915, Mrs. Rogers has remained on the farm. At the present time she makes her home with her son, Thomas C. Rogers, and regardless of her advanced age she is very active in affairs of the farm and home. Her memory for things of the early days is remarkably acute, and the Historian herein wishes to express his deep gratitude for the generous and helpful information which she has furnished for this work. She is a gracious and generous hostess, a loving mother and sincere friend.

We stayed all night with friends near Los Angeles and returned to our home two days later to view the wreckage and clean up the mess. Long Beach cooked with gas, and there was not a single public eating place open until the Standard Oil Company, under my direct supervision, equipped 70 cafes, hospitals and other institutions with bottled gas. We worked very hard for three weeks and by rendering this service took the people off the bread line and out of soup

HARTUP, JOHN REUBEN,

Son of Thomas Hartup and Sarah Ann (Garber) Hartup, was born on his father's farm near Lore City, Ohio, Aug. 8th. 1864. The life story of John R. Hartup is a most interesting one, so it will be produced in this record as he has written it himself.

"I was born at the place where I now reside, this farm having been in the possession of the Hartup family for more than a century. The farm is situated about half way between Lore City and Senecaville, Ohio. I began my schooling at the Liberty District School when I was five years of age, and after completing the elementary school I taught several terms. During my teaching days, I became ambitious for further education, so I saved my money toward the fulfillment of this desire. Later, I attended Muskingum College at New Concord, Ohio and graduated from that institution in 1894.

Following my college years, I taught school during the winter months and farmed during the summers. Strange as it may seem, I also became a local minister of the Baptist church and in that capacity officiated at many weddings and funerals. Aside from my functions as a teacher, farmer and minister, I also took an active part in local politics and made many political speeches around the country hereabout.

Following the death of my father in 1901, I ran the home farm and as a farmer my chief pride was in my fine cattle, good looking buggies and excellent horses. At one time there were seven fine horses on the farm, two of which were of Kentucky stock. When the Guernsey County fair was organized at Senecaville, I helped build the race track and as President of the organization assisted in its management.

I attended the Methodist church at Lore City and was the Sunday school Superintendent for more than 30 years. After thirty-nine years of teaching in the public schools, during which time I had acquired the State Life Certificates for both Common Schools and High Schools, I decided to retire.

On Aug. 27th. 1913, I married Miss Golden Beatrice Kuhn, who was born and raised in West Virginia. To our marriage was born one child, a daughter whom we named Jessie Ruth Hartup."

With the death of John Reuben Hartup on Sept. 11th. 1944 there passed a sterling character and public-spirited citizen whose absence will long be felt by his host of relatives, neighbors and friends. Mr. Hartup was buried in the Senecaville cemetery at Senecaville, Ohio.

To them was born one child named Jessie Ruth Hartup.

HARTUP, JESSIE RUTH,

Daughter of John R. Hartup and Golden Beatrice (Kuhn) Hartup, was born on her father's farm near Senecaville, Ohio, Sept. 21st. 1914. She graduated from the Senecaville high school in 1932, after which she took a college preparatory course at Mt. Vernon Academy. In 1937, she became a Registered nurse at the Washington Sanitarium and Hospital in Washington, D.C.. In 1940, she received a Bachelor of Science degree in nursing education at the Washington Missionary College and from 1940 to 1943 held the position as Supervisor of the Eye, Nose, Ear and Throat Department of the Washington Sanitarium and Hospital. ## GENEALOGICAL RECORD OF

ABEL GARBER AND JANE (CHESTER) GARBER

GARBER, ABEL

Son of Samuel Garber and Mary (Smith) Garber, was born in Washington County, Pa., March 7th, 1832, and when four years old moved to Ohio with his parents. His boyhood days were spent on the farm and in attending the neighborhood rural school. In the year 1853 Abel married Miss Jane Chester and to them were born eight children named Jonathan B., John William, Agnes, Mary M., Hannah Jane, Elizabeth A., Rosalie and Ada. Unfortunately, Abel became enamoured of his neighbor's red-headed wife and ran away with her to Tennessee where he lived with this woman formore than fourty years. After her demise he married a young woman who deserted him in his old age and stripped him of everything he owned. From information which has been received by the historian, Abel many times regretted his perfidy but apparently possessed too much Garber stubbornness to return in a meek and repentant mood to his family in Ohio. He died on Dec. 24th. 1921, perhaps without the knowledge that he had begotten a family of sons and daughters who were destined to live long in the hearts of their relatives and friends.

GARBER, JANE (CHESTER),

The Historian has little information on the life of Jane Chester who, in 1853, became the wife of Abel Garber. However, it must be acknowledged that she was doubtless a fine mother and the only parent her family was to know. To Jane and Abel were born eight children named Jonathan B., John William, Agnes, Mary M., Hannah Jane, Rosalie, Elizabeth A., and Ada.

GARBER, DR. JONATHAN B.,

Son of Abel Garber and Jane (Chester) Garber, was born in Guernsey County, Ohio, July 31st. 1856. In 1891, he located in Dunkirk, Indiana, and for the story of his remarkable life the Historian will quote the Dunkirk Daily News of Oct. 7th, 1913.

"Dr. Jonathan B. Garber was born in Guernsey County, Ohio, July 31st, 1856 and died Oct. 3rd, 1913. His boyhood days were spent on the farm where he attended the district schools laying the foundation for his future education, supplementing it with a course at Dennison University, Granville, Ohio, where he prepared himself for the teaching profession, which he followed for thirteen years and during which time he became one of the prominent educators in the State of Ohio teaching for some time in an Ohio Normal school.

In 1886, he began the study of medicine, graduating from the Jefferson Medical College in Philadelphia in 1891. He began the practice of medicine in Mainville, Ohio. Later he took special work in New Orleans and in 1891 located in Dunkirk. He was united in marriage in 1879 to Miss Alma H. Hartley of Guernsey County, Ohio. This union was blessed with three children; Mrs. Nellie Crozier, Dr. E. C. Garber and Mrs. Daisy Davidson, all of Dunkirk.

He leaves to mourn their great loss his devoted wife, three children and five grandchildren, his aged mother, Mrs. Jane Garber of Lore City, Ohio; Mrs. Steele of Buffalo, Ohio; Mrs. Gardner of Columbus, Ohio; Mrs. Agy and Mrs. Coville of Cambridge, Ohio and his only brother John W. Garber of Wheeling, W. Va., and many friends in his old home in Ohio and in Dunkirk and surrounding territory.

Dr. Garber so touched the life of this section and influenced it for good that the complete story of his life work cannot be told. Briefly I want to speak of him as a physician, as a citizen and as a churchman. As a physician, he occupied a prominent place in the State, being one time vice president of the Indiana Medical Society and president of the Eighth District Medical Society. He was held in the highest esteem by the men of his profession. Dr. Garber was not only skilled as a physician, he was so constituted that he carried sunshine into the sick room and everywhere he went.

As a citizen, Dr. Garber was always interested in those things which were for the good of the people. He was a man of strong convictions and did not hesitate to express himself on questions which involved the welfare of the community. The church, the religious side of Dr. Garber's life deserves special mention. At the age of sixteen he was converted and united with the Salem Baptist church of Ohio, in which church he grew up, taking an active part in the young peoples' Society. He was a profound Bible student and one of the joys of his life was teaching in the Sunday school."

Following this tribute to Dr. Jonathan B. Garber, the newspaper published a glowing resolution of respect and affection by the Jay County Medical Society. Thus an outstanding member of our great family has left behind him a life of service to his fellow man and an uncounted host of affectionate friends and acquaintances; the measure of a truly great man indeed.

GARBER, ALMA (HARTLEY),

Of the parentage and life of Alma H. (Hartley) Garber, the Historian must confess the absence of any information whatever in his files. Perhaps the biography of this devoted wife and mother may yet be published in pages supplemental to this work.

GARBER, DR. E. C.

Son of Dr. Jonathan B. Garber and Alma (Hartley) Garber, was doubtless born prior to the Doctor's residence in Dunkirk, Ind.; perhaps while he pursued his education in Ohio.

Son of Abel Garber and Jane (Chester) Garber, was born in Guernsey County, Ohio. He at one time lived in the city of Wheeling W.Va. but beyond that fact the Historian has no record of him.

COVILLE, AGNES (GARBER),

Daughter of Abel Garber and Jane (Chester) Garber, was born near Lore City, Ohio. She married Mr. Alfred Coville, but further than this the historian has no information about her.

HISTORY AND GENEALOGY OF

SILAS DEAN GARBER AND SUSAN (BOYD) GARBER

GARBER, SILAS DEAN,

Son of Samuel Garber and Mary (Smith) Garber, was born on his father's farm near the Salem Baptist Church in Guernsey County, Ohio, Jan. 28th, 1851. His first occupation after attaining adulthood was farming but he did not follow this work long. As may be found among many Garbers, Silas Dean was born to become a teacher. At the age of twenty-four years, he left the farm and became a teacher in the public schools, which profession he followed for thirty-five years. On April 13th, 1876, he married Miss Susan Boyd, daughter of John and Susan (Scott) Boyd. To them were born six children named Stella, Ina, Bernice, Ruth, Roy and John Fredrick.

By reason of his profession, Silas Dean and his family moved about a great deal. For a time he was Township Trustee in Center Township, Guernsey County, Ohio. He taught five terms of school in Richland Township, three at Sandhill School and two in Noble County Ohio. In 1884, Silas moved with his family to Christian County, Illinois, where he taught in the public schools for sixteen years. However, in 1900, he yearned for his early surroundings and family ties, and consequently moved back to his native State where he settled on a farm four miles east of Cambridge.

During the World War of 1917-1918, he returned temporarily to the teaching profession because of the acute shortage of teachers at that time. This time, he taught four terms of school, and in 1921 retired from active life, being then seventy years old and a somewhat lonely man. His beloved wife died in 1910, and with his children married, he established his residence in the city of Cambridge, Ohio. In 1936, the Historian made a special trip to Cambridge for the purpose of meeting this venerable relative and to acquire such family

The first part of the paper is devoted to a general discussion of the problem of the origin of life. It is shown that the problem is not only a scientific one, but also a philosophical one. The scientific aspect of the problem is concerned with the question of how life arose from non-life. The philosophical aspect is concerned with the question of whether life is a necessary part of the universe or whether it is a mere accident. The paper then proceeds to a discussion of the various theories of the origin of life. It is shown that the most plausible theory is that life arose from non-life through a series of chemical reactions. This theory is supported by the discovery of the RNA world and the discovery of the origin of the genetic code. The paper concludes by discussing the implications of the origin of life for the search for extraterrestrial life. It is shown that the discovery of life on other planets would have profound implications for our understanding of the universe and our place in it.
